

The Future Governor?

MACK McLARTY

By TOMMY YATES
Associated Press Writer
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — What first started out as a joke for Thomas Franklin McLarty III has now become a serious consideration. Plans are being laid so that one day a straightforward, salesman like 21-year-old "Mack" McLarty of Hope may one day run for governor of Arkansas. When he was a junior at Hope High School, Mack was stuck with the nickname of "Governor" after being elected governor of Boys State. "I think the label pinned on me is flattering, but it can be misleading," he says. Nevertheless, Mack says should the opportunity come, "I will be prepared." Even at his young age, Mack appears to have all the political attributes, except experience. He's an articulate speaker, handsome and has developed a sense of timing. He plans to marry Donna Cochran of Hot Springs June 14, which also is his birthday. Since he was a sophomore at Hope High School, McLarty has been a leader. He first was chosen vice president and then president of the student body. He held many other high offices and was chosen the school's outstanding senior. He also was quarterback of the football team and played in the 1963 high school all-star game. He entered the University of Arkansas and promptly was elected president of the Cardinal 20, a group of the 20 most outstanding freshmen at the university. He was elected president of the student body in 1967 and will finish college next January with a degree in banking and finance with a 3.7 grade-point average. Before thinking about politics, however, Mack says he first plans to enlist in the Army and then return to Hope and work with his father, who is in the restaurant, leasing and automobile business in Hope and Texarkana. There are three requisites, he says, that must be proved positive "before I say I'm getting into politics." "One is getting married. This will be a new dimension this year and I would have to determine if I could enter political work and be of service and still not neglect my family.

"Then, as you well know, politics can be trying on your religion and I certainly don't want to neglect my religious work. And, third, I've got to go back and prove I'm a businessman."

"If these prove positive and the water is right, then I would consider going into politics."

Although governor or congressman may be the top step on the ladder, McLarty said his first step would be to state representative or state senator.

"Certainly, if a young man is to succeed, he will have to prove himself worthy of the voters, so this would be one of my first considerations," he said.

"If everything works the way I hope, I may run for the senate or state representative," he said. "It's not from lack of planning, but I think I'd be foolish to solidify my plans so closely now where they couldn't be changed."

McLarty says what needs to be done in politics is "to fulfill the promises you make."

Concerning current problems, McLarty said there is a "definite need for the young and adult generations to have a meeting of the minds in the very near future."

"This might be our underlying problem, it might be more basic than Vietnam, the financial crisis or anything else," he said.

"We've got to have communications and mutual respect and a point where young people are given responsibility," he said. "I don't mean to lay this on the older generation. It's not all their fault, some is our own."

"This hits me right in the face, being 21, but this is one area that needs to take place. A lot of people think I should eventually run, but at 21 I don't think I can sit here and say I will run for governor or even enter politics."

"I've got to come to grips with these other aspects of life before I can enter the political arena," he said. "I hope to be able to justify this respect in me and if that's the way the chips fall, that's wonderful, but I can't close my mind to other possibilities."

Formula Cuts Back State Road Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A revised formula for federal highway aid will permit about half the states in the United States to obligate more money this calendar year but the formula will have an adverse affect on Arkansas.

Arkansas will be limited to $36.6 million under the formula which was announced Thursday by Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd. The limit for Arkansas was $37.1 million under the formula announced in January.

Boyd said that the old formula froze federal aid obligation levels about five per cent below the 1967 level for each state and that this was unfair for some states which had hoped to catch up this year after relative inactivity in 1967.

Insurance Surcharge Is Denied

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Insurance Commissioner Allan Horne said Thursday that a request by seven insurance companies and five rating bureaus for a surcharge on fire, burglary and property damage policies in Arkansas was discriminatory.

He turned down the request and added that the firms had provided no statistical data to back up their request.

The insurance companies contended that the surcharge was necessary to offset possible damage claims from riots.

Horne said the charges would be discriminatory because they would apply to cities, towns and rural areas with little risk of riots.

The companies wanted to charge an added $1 a year on fire and extended coverage and homeowner policies on homes throughout the state, a 2 per cent surcharge for burglary and glass insurance coverage on commercial property throughout the state and a rider on policies for governmental bodies excluding coverage for bodily injury or property damage.

Crank Defends Association With Stephens

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Rep. Marion Crank of Foreman filed as a Democratic candidate for governor today and refused to apologize for his association with W. R. Stephens, president of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. Crank said that if his friendship with Stephens is the only thing that is going to be said about his candidacy that he will be glad to stand on that friendship.

Crank paid his $1,500 filing with $1 bills collected in his home county, Little Rock, and delivered to him by Mayor Ernest Cowling of Ashdown and acting Mayor Bill Pullen of Foreman.

As soon as Crank finished signing filing papers, he looked up and said to newsmen, "Now, does that remove any question about whether I am going to run?"

Crank was told "the only question is who's going to run the state when you get elected," He answered, "Me!"

Crank said he resigned Thursday as a vice president of the Arkansas Cement Corp., an Arkla subsidiary, and that he was now among the unemployed. "We hope to correct that next November," he added.

Crank said he would finance his campaign with contributions because he had no personal money to put into it.

Much of his news conference after the filing was devoted to his discussion of his relationship to Stephens and Crank began by saying, "I don't even know how to start on a thing of this type."

He said he believed that Stephens would support him and said he would be proud of this support.

Brig. Gen. James E. Hill, 40th Air Division commander at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Mich., will succeed Johnson. Johnson will assume his new assignment by June 20 at Barksdale AFB in Shreveport, La.

Mixed Drinks Bill to Be Circulated

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Emmett Miller, secretary-treasurer of the Arkansas Private Club Association, said Thursday that copies of a bill to legalize and regulate the sale of mixed drinks in private clubs would be circulated this week to all state legislators, county officials and city officials.

The bill, which was drawn up by State Rep. H. Allan Dishongh of Little Rock, contains strict requirements for the issuance of a private club license according to Miller. He said it also contains heavy penalties for violations.

Miller said that Marion Burton, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's executive secretary, had commented favorably on the bill but had suggested two changes.

Miller said Burton had suggested that the price of a private club license be raised from $250 to $600. He also said Burton suggested that cities be allowed to tax each private club as much as $300 a year.

Miller said the suggestions would be adopted.

Vatican at Odds With Leftwingers

By DAVID MAZZARELLA

Associated Press Writer

ROME (AP) — Conflict between the Vatican and left-wing Italian Catholics intensified this week.

The Vatican Daily L'Osservatore Romano, criticizing militant Catholics who have turned their backs on the Church-supported Christian Democrat party of Premier Aldo Moro, intimated that such persons were not really Catholics any more.

The statement—and a congress of dissenting Catholics which touched it off—added fuel to a controversy that has become one of the major issues in the campaign for the May 19-20 national elections.

Some 50 different groups of dissenting Catholics held their second congress Sunday in the Communist-run city of Bologna to protest what they call heave-handed interference in politics by Italian bishops.

They called for a "New Left" outside the realm of the Christian Democrat and Socialist center-left alliance. They agreed to collaborate in preparation of a "White Book" to document "the meddlesome and pressure of the ecclesiastical hierarchy... in the present electoral moment."

The dissenting Catholics, some of whom have agreed to run as independents on the Communist party ticket, were referring in part to a January statement issued in the name of the Italian bishops' conference calling on Catholics to vote for the Christian Democrats once again.

This drew protests from some liberal bishops notably Michele Cardinal Pellegrino of Turin and Archbishop Salvatore Baddassari of Ravenna.

Health Care Systems Criticized

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT

Associated Press Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy criticized today what he termed "the full failure of our health care system."

He proposed a broad and specific program of remedies he said would "make medical care available to all."

The New York Democrat is using Indiana and its May 7 presidential primary as a forum for a series of major policy addresses on what he sees as the dilemmas facing the United States.

Deprived by President Johnson of a president to condemn a war to deplore, Kennedy has chosen to criticize a broad spectrum of national conditions and proposed fairly specific solutions.

He outlined a foreign policy for the United States Wednesday. He focused on crime Thursday. And he turned today to "the grim fact that across the nation the condition of American medical care is grave—and in parts of the nation, it is critical."

His latest policy speech was prepared for the Indiana University Medical School.

The ancient Incas maintained a regular mail service, by means of relays of runners.

Indiscretion at the bridge table should be punished, but once in awhile it turns out to be highly profitable. Board eight of the nationwide charity game is a case in point.

East's one spade overcall is a good example of indiscretion. With five high card points and a rather poor suit, East should pass quietly and let his opponents bid along.

Left to themselves, North and South would play the hand somewhere in hearts—possibly in game, more probably at two or three. West would probably open the five of clubs and South would make 10 tricks.

The bidding in the box is what took place when one East player did stick in a spade overcall. South was crowded into a two heart bid and from then on there was no stopping below game.

East won the spade opening with his jack and went over all possibilities. He didn't think much of his chance to defeat the contract. It was apparent from the bidding that South held more than five hearts. Then South saw one chance that might defeat the contract or at least prevent an overtrick. It depended on finding his partner with the king and one heart.

East led his 10 of diamonds! South won with dummy's queen and saw the danger of a diamond ruff. He did the best he could to stop it by playing ace and one heart but that did him no good. West took his king of hearts and led the king of diamonds. East ruffed dummy's ace and West waited for the setting trick with his jack of diamonds.

Crime at the bridge table had paid once more.

Evergreens in Rome Are Diseased

By GERALD MILLER

Associated Press Writer

ROME (AP) — The cypress trees of Rome are pining away, just like the pines. And like almost everything else in this green and sunny land, it's causing controversy.

According to the city's Department of Gardens, a parasitic growth that first appeared in the United States 40 years ago is spreading at epidemic rate through some of Rome's finest evergreens.

The affliction, called Coryneum canker, shows up as yellow "blebs" on cypress boughs. It turns them the color of rust before they drop off, leaving nothing but bare trunk, as unlovely as a telephone pole.

The pines are also withering but not from a natural parasite. Their malady is industrialization. At least two separate studies by experts agree that the pines are more susceptible than other trees to automobile exhaust, industrial fumes and smoke from homes.

The umbrella pine and the sentinel cypress are as characteristic of Rome as fountains, brogue palaces, marble and burnt umber.

Roman newspapers are in a froth over the Garden Department report. "Attacked by a parasite!" shouted Il Giornale D'Italia in a front-page story. "The cypresses of Rome are condemned to die!"

The daily Momento Sera predicted that unscrupulous real-estate dealers would use the report to justify indiscriminate cutting of wooded areas to make way for more apartment houses.

City Councilman Luigi Sapio said there was no reason for panic—yet. He said the number of hopelessly ill cypresses was not large and gave assurance that the city government would prevent healthy specimens being cut down.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

ALL "JACK" NO PLAY! — DOESN'T WORK

Dear Helen: I've been married for 25 years and have been unhappy for the last 18. My husband is a self-made businessman, and that's all he thinks about. He works up to 18 hours a day, makes all kinds of money, but never spends it on having fun, or enjoying things with the family. He never spends — PERIOD!

He begrudges us even a minute of his time: We disturb him. If I suggest taking the children on a trip, he screams about the money it will cost him. He resents the beds we sleep in and the bread we eat, though his bank account could provide cake.

When the children were smaller, I put up and shut up, but he gets worse with the years. He's become a regular miser. Talks about nothing but money. If it's a disease, he seems happy with it, but we aren't.

You once said, "All work and no play makes 'jack' but chills Jill." Well Jill is chilled to the bone and ready for a little warmth in her life. My only worry is that he will somehow fix it so he won't have to support me. After denying myself all these years, I feel I'm entitled to part of that hoarded money, after the divorce. Please tell me how I can get what's coming to me? — LONG DEPRIVED

Dear L. D.: I don't know "what's coming to you," because I haven't heard your husband's side of the story. Seems to me you'll both "get what's coming to you" if you tear each other to pieces in a bitter divorce battle. Why not try a marriage counsellor first? — H

Dear Helen: Same old story: Warm wife, cool husband, I mean, literally. The Battle of the Thermosate blows hot and cold at our house. I turn it up to a liveable temperature. She sneaks in and lowers it to a point where icicles form on my nose. Says the heat makes her sick. I say only dead fish should be put in ice boxes. Once I anchored the thermostat in one position (75 degrees which I maintain is right). She opened all the windows! We supported! the gas company that month.

Any suggestions for — TWO STUBBORN PEOPLE

Dear Two: If your wife went barefoot in a bikini, should cool her off, and warm you up.

And if you wore a smoking jacket and fleece-lined slippers, you might get that thermostat down to 68-70 degrees, where it belongs! — H

P.S. You're welcome, wife — H

Dear Helen: I'm married to a State Legislator. He has all kinds of men coming to see him. One of them comes and when he isn't home, occasionally. He is a lobbyist, and I think he is lobbying for something personal — me. The other day he asked me out to dinner while my husband was on a trip. It gets somewhat boring here, when he is gone so much. I'm sure I could handle this man, though he does cut quite a swath with the ladies.

Should I accept? — WHAT'S THE HARM?

Dear WTH: Vote "No" on Proposition No. 11. It could lead to a crisis in domestic relations! — H

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of The Hope Star.

that he was considering seeking an office.

Davis said he had been encouraged to run for several different offices but declined to say what office he would seek if he ran.

Davis said he had been encouraged to oppose either Sen. J. William Fulbright or Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, but added that he wasn't sure he met the residency requirement for a national office.

Davis said he would file as a Republican if he decides to run. He said there were deep Democratic roots in his family, "but that doesn't mean that I wouldn't change parties after finding out what the difference is."

He said the people who had encouraged him to run for "good citizens interested in good government."

"I don't consider myself a politician..." Davis said. "However, I sometimes think that more people need to be interested in politics and need to be willing to make sacrifices."

"I feel that's the only way we're going to have good government — a government representing the people and not just special interest groups," he said. "That would seem to be the only way some things can be accomplished."

A new symbol for the nuclear age

Artist's drawing of AP&L's $140-million nuclear plant planned for construction near Russellville.

You've called us AP&L through the years, so we've decided to give recognition to this simple way of identifying our Company. We're changing our signature as we move forward in the Nuclear Age. One example is the nuclear plant AP&L plans to build near Russellville — first in the Southwest; another is our participation in SEFOR, an experimental project which seeks even more economical energy from nuclear fuel.

We hope you like the new color, too — the refreshing green will make our Company name easy to recognize and, at the same time, add a bright touch to the Land of Opportunity.

The symbol and signature are changed, but you'll always find the same friendly folks at AP&L—people who are on the job to make living great for you today, better tomorrow.

A Closer Walk With God Will Lead You Right Straight to Church

A Crown of Thorns

"They Crowned Him With Thorns"... what do we crown Him with? Long ago the crowd cried, "Crucify Him." Today, many would prefer to crucify The Son of God than to Confess Him. How is it with you? Do you scorn Him with proud rejection? Are you pressing the painful sharp points of the crown of thorns against His brow? Do you revolt against all His Kingdom stands for? Do you crucify Him anew each day and put Him to open shame?

Blessed to know that He accepted the crown of thorns. He was despised and rejected by men; yet He opened not His mouth. Will you TRUST your soul to Him, or will you THRUST your thorns in Him? Go to church this week. Trust Him, confess Him... help lift that crown of thorns; help carry that cross.

If your church is to be a going concern, it must have church-going members. Sponsors listed below urge you to attend services this week.

JOHNSON IS Tantalizing Non-candidate
By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson, as he makes duty calls around the nation following his dramatic withdrawal from the 1968 election, is proving to be a most tantalizing non-candidate.

Johnson made his first post-announcement political appearance at a Chicago gathering Wednesday night and, for a self-declared "lame duck" managed to sneak suspense into his speech.

The thrust of the chief executive's remarks at a Democratic-sponsored fund-raising dinner, was yet another appeal for national unity and a declaration that in the November balloting, perhaps, more than ever in the past, "we shall be choosing our future-and the future of our children."

Then, in an additio to his prepared text, he said:
"There are mothers and fathers in every land-and I am one of those fathers and she (Mrs. Johnson, who accompanied him) is one of those mothers-who despise war as their children despise it."

Again, as he closed his remarks, Johnson volunteered that he had been prompted to make "a complete reassessment of my personal situation."

His listeners straightened in their hard-backed chairs and newsman reached for notebooks. But they relaxed when, instead of any dramatic announcement, he merely addressed that he meant he still felt compelled to honor Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley's longstanding invitation to speak at the city's annual Democratic banquet.

Johnson's drop-in visit ostensibly was a big surprise since the White House announced the trip only a short time before his departure from Washington.

It was evident, however, that the surprise was well planned.
At each place setting in the banquet hall was a fat program, obviously printed well in advance, proclaiming that the address of the evening would be delivered personally by Johnson.

SWINDLED THE Phone Co.
NEW YORK (AP) - A self-employed exporter was arraigned Wednesday on charges of swindling the New York Telephone Company of $146,000 in phone charges.

Richard F. Fincke, 51, of Babylon N.Y. was arrested earlier in the day by FBI agents on a federal complaint alleging that he ran up credit card phone bills to that amount from 1962 until last June.

Federal officials said it was the biggest telephone credit card swindle on record.

CHOICE FOR THE Democratic presidential nomination.
But this was not to be. Johnson added he was "President and not the vice president-or a member of the Senate."

Cheers dissolved into laughter.

AL Decides to Slow Up Expansion

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The American League, which made tracks over the National League in expanding to 12 teams for 1969, now is slowed down in those tracks.

The Nationals were miffed when the Americans voted last winter without mutual consultation to admit Seattle and re-treaded Kansas City to membership next season.

It forced the Nationals to advance their expansion plans, originally targeted to not later than 1971, to 1969 also. They now are pondering the selection of two new cities from among San Diego, Milwaukee, Dallas-Fort Worth, Buffalo and Montreal.

The Nationals will meet in mid-May presumably to vote on the two new franchises.

Until this is done, the Americans consider themselves stymied in their decision to split their league in two six-team divisions next year with playoffs to determine the circuit's pennant winner and World Series representative.

At an American League owners meeting Thursday, President Joe Cronin said that the brass wants divisional play in 1969 but scheduling action has been delayed pending the National's move.

"It would be difficult if we went ahead with a division setup not knowing what the National's two new teams will be—or even if there will be two new teams," said Cronin. "So, in deference to the National League we took no action on the length of a 1969 schedule or composition of the divisions."

"We will have representatives meet with the National League before its May meeting mutually to iron out problems we all are cognizant of. The American League then will meet on May 23 in Chicago to consider further plans for 1969."

Routon and Hairr Are Selected

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer
HHS golf coach Jim Jordan announced earlier this week that Hope's representatives to the District 4-AA championships tomorrow will be Terry Hairr, senior, and Ralph Routon, sophomore.

The two were chosen by qualifying rounds held since the last regularly scheduled match, and they will also participate in the state championships to be held in Little Rock on May 10. The Hope team finished 4th in the district meet last year.

Hairr is in his fourth year playing on the golf team, and this is his first time to play in the district tournament. Routon, in his second year, participated in the post-season events last year as a freshman.

The golfers, with a season mark of 4-6, go for the title on the tough 6,600 yard, par 72 layout on the tight Magnolia Country Club course. On sixteen of the eighteen holes the roughs on both sides of the fairway are taken up by large clusters of trees.

After a somewhat down year in athletics, HHS has come up with a crackerjack baseball team. Presently the squad, coached by Bill Lawrence and Jim Jordan, is sporting a 6-0 record. Likely the best pitcher in these parts, Dwight Galloway already has a 4-0 mark with 19 strikeouts.

Negroes at MSC Threat to Athletics

By BOB VOGES
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State University officials today sought to answer demands by a group of Negro athletes who are threatening to boycott all sports at the university.

The athletes, led by star football halfback Lamar Thomas, presented a list of seven grievances Thursday and said they would stay away from football practice until administration officials indicate "that they will attend to our grievances in a satisfactory manner."

Thomas, saying he is spokesman for some 30 or 40 Negro athletes at MSU, led a delegation that met with Athletic Director Biggie Munn and John Fuzak, MSU faculty representative to the Big Ten Conference. No football workout was scheduled today, but Coach Duffy Daugherty said 15 or 20 Negro athletes left practice Thursday to attend the grievance meeting with Munn. A game-type scrimmage is set for Saturday.

Complaints include a lack of Negro coaches, academic counseling which the Negroes say is designed "for blacks to place them in courses where they will maintain eligibility" and a lack of Negroes employed in jobs at Jensen Fieldhouse, the intramural building, ticket office and ice arena.

Another grievance was that MSU discourages Negroes from participating in baseball and some other sports. The black athletes also complained that there are no Negro doctors or trainers to treat athletes, there is no Negro cheer leader and the athletic counselor should have a Negro assistant.

John Hannah, MSU president, said he had been given a set of the demands earlier this week but was away from campus until Thursday.

Hannah was leaving today for a meeting of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, of which he is chairman, and will return May 2. He said, "I will be happy to meet with them upon my return."

He pointed out that Don Coleman, a Negro and former All-American football lineman, recently was hired as an assistant football coach. MSU, which has an enrollment of 37,000, has been noted for some of its outstanding Negro athletes.

Babe Ruth League Holds Tryouts

Babe Ruth League (Pony League) tryouts were held Thursday night, April 25, at Legion Field, and a good many boys turned out for the tryouts. Many more are needed to fill up the rosters of the five teams being formed to expand the League this year. If you are of Babe Ruth League age, 13, 14, or 15, and you want to play on one of these Babe Ruth League teams, call George Frazier at the Anderson-Frazier Insurance Agency or at his home, 506 E. 2nd Street in Hope. Whether you tried out or not, call George Frazier and get signed up for the program. The player draft will take place next Monday night and the teams will be formed; so be sure to get in touch with George Frazier as soon as you can to make sure your name is on the team roster.

Player Is Leading in Dallas Meet

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A tough course and difficult playing conditions don't worry the golf tour half as much as bumpy putters.

In fact, Gary Player, the man from South Africa who has gotten rich in American golf, says there's just no need to even talk about high winds that do things with your ball when your putting is on the beam.

He illustrated his point by the four-under-par 66 that showed he was leading the $100,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic by one stroke going into the second round.

He got solid backing in giving putting the major emphasis by four fellows who were just behind him.

Miller Barber of Sherman, Tex.; Harold Henning of South Africa, and Jack Montgomery of Fort Worth, Tex., all shot 67 and each told about how their putters put them over.

Barber got his three birdies with putts of 18, 33 and 30 feet. Henning used only 28 putts to go around the 7,085-yard Preston Trail course that was swept by winds ranging up to 30 miles per hour.

Montgomery had two 50-footers in his birdie string. Illness and injury took a bigger toll than the tough course and high wind as eight players dropped out.

Barber Just Stroke Under the Leader

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Miller Barber of Texarkana, Ark., put together a flawless three-under-par 67 Thursday and is only one stroke back of the leader in the $100,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic.

Barber hit 17 greens in regulation figures. He made three birdies and did not card a bogey. Barber knocked in birdie putts of 18, 35 and 30 feet. Barber, Harold Henning and Jack Montgomery enter today's second round one stroke back of Gary Player.

R. H. Sikes of Springdale, Ark., was also among the leaders despite carding a 72. He had nines of 35-37.

Forward Pass Is Off and Running Again

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Fresh from an easy victory in the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland, Calumet Farm's Forward Pass was off and running again today. This time Forward Pass was going to a stall at Louisville's Churchill Downs where he can catch his breath for the May 4 Kentucky Derby.

The on-and-on colt carried Derby weight of 126 pounds Thursday as he breezed to a five-length win in the 1 1/4 mile Blue Grass. He was timed in 1:47 4-5.

In winning the Blue Grass, Forward Pass beat eight other Derby eligibles, with Bwamazon Farm's T.V. Commercial second, Saddle Rock Farm's Francis' Hat third and Cragwood Stable's Alley Fighter fourth. The Blue Grass didn't test all the top Derby eligibles however, but this Saturday's Stepping Stone Purse at Churchill Downs will pit at least three more against each other.

Listed as definite starters for the Stepping Stone are Kentucky Sherry, Captain's Gig and Subjet. Expected to complete the field for the seven-furlong race are Trouble Brewing, Barney Kiss and Tampa Trouble.

Meanwhile in New York, trainer Hirsch Jacobs announced the withdrawal of Wise Exchange from the Derby field. Jacobs said the colt just wasn't ready for the 1 1/4-mile Derby.

White Sox Haven't Won a Game

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The White Sox still haven't won any baseball games this season, and the slump is keeping Chicago Manager Eddie Stanky in terrific shape.

Stanky spent 20 minutes walking briskly from foul line to foul line in Minnesota's Metropolitan Stadium Thursday, swinging a leaded bat and mulling over his club's latest loss—a 3-2 toughie against the Twins.

He started his post-game stroll routine last Saturday when the Sox dropped their seventh straight. Now the streak is up to 10 for winless Chicago, and Stanky is still walking.

In Thursday's only other game, the Chicago Cubs whipped Atlanta 5-2 as Ron Santo poked a pair of home runs. All other major league teams had the day off.

"How am I holding up?" Stanky said, repeating a newsman's question. "Great."

Then he strolled off to the trainer's room to lie down for several more minutes.

It was the kind of loss that required long meditation. Chicago ace Gary Peters allowed just three hits—but all of them in a row in the third inning when the Twins got all their runs. "The way we're going," Peters said, "you make one bad pitch, and it costs you."

And what made it even tougher for Stanky to swallow was that an old teammate from his New York Giant days was the hero for the Twins.

Rubber-armed Al Worthington came out of the bullpen and saved Jim Perry's victory.

Worthington loaded the bases with none out in the seventh on two singles and a walk, then struck out Pete Ward, Tommy Chicago left 11 runners on base and one manager in the outfield.

Murray For Barry

Barry Goldwater, the outspoken Republican who won his party's laurels in 1964 only to be crushed in a Democratic landslide, is a man not easily pigeon-holed. Just about the time his party goes off in one direction, he will, independent and free-thinking as always, take off in another.

In an interview with representatives of a national magazine, Goldwater was asked his opinion of American youth. What he had to say should reassure those who are persuaded by headlines that many college campuses are dens of immorality, rebellion, and drugs.

"This generation of students," said the former U.S. Senator, "is the finest we've had in my lifetime. If you gathered up every oddball from every campus in this country, you'd have a hard time filling half a stadium." Goldwater has visited 56 campuses and has plans to visit 30 more this spring. His college itinerary is not without political overtones since he will seek election to his old Senate post. But if what Goldwater says about the younger generation is accurate—and we believe it is—then, his expression of confidence in it will transcend any personal benefits that might accrue.

Put another way, patting the youth of America on the back may get him a few votes in Arizona, but it does more than that. It puts the crabbed attitude toward youngsters in proper perspective. The country has needed a voice to allay the suspicion that college students are traveling down the proverbial road to perdition. For example, Goldwater compares his generation with the present one. His comments are interesting on two points in particular: bizarre dress and drinking.

"I think back to when I was their age and we shaved our heads and wore bell-bottom trousers and square-toed shoes, and thought it was very clever to paint the heads of the sophomores. We danced the Charleston and the Black Bottom and drank homebrew. I don't think there's any great difference. There's not as much drinking today as there was when I was that age. On the campuses, I find much less drinking than there was when I was in school. I also find a much deeper, more widespread interest in religion."

Oddly enough, Goldwater has not been heckled and subjected to demonstrations on a large scale like other campus speakers. In fact, because of this, hardly anyone knew of his adventures among the young. The dialogue has been quite, unobtrusive, and obviously beneficial to both candidate and student. One is prompted to say "hurray for Barry" for puncturing the notion held in some quarters that oddballs and freak-outs constitute a dominant force in college. It just isn't so. — Monroe (La.) Wonders Why Crank Didn't Act Before

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Odell Pollard, chairman of the state Republican party, questioned Thursday whether Rep. Marion Crank of Foreman was sincere in his criticism of a recent automobile insurance rate increase. Crank, a Democratic candidate for governor, said Monday that the increase should be rescinded and hearings on the increase reopened. He also said he was asking the Legislative Council to determine whether a system can be established to insure that any insurance rate increases will be justified.

"If he were sincere, he could have taken action long before now, since he has been a member of the legislature and the powerful Legislative Council for years," Pollard said. Pollard called the question of auto insurance rates "long-studied and difficult," and asked why Crank had waited until now to criticize the hike.

"If Mr. Crank wants a rate investigation, we suggest he start by looking into the procedures under which Arkia has received its many gas rate increases," Pollard said.

School Bows to Negro Militants

By TOM KELLY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University bowed today to a militant student protest that has disrupted campus life for four days and said it would suspend construction of a controversial gymnasium.

But the few hundred—out of the Ivy League university's 27,500 students—who carried out the protest continued to sit-in at five buildings, demanding amnesty from punishment for their demonstration.

Columbia, hemmed in on three sides by predominantly white and residential Morning-side Heights, sits atop a bluff overlooking Harlem and the 30-acre Morningside Park. The gym would be built on two acres of the park, which separates the campus from the Negro community.

The university's decision to suspend construction—made at the request of Mayor John V. Lindsay—came in an announcement by the university vice president, David B. Truman, before a cheering crowd of 150 white and Negro onlookers gathered in pre-dawn chill on the steps of Low Memorial Library.

Truman also said the entire university would be closed until Monday to permit further talks between the administration, faculty and Lindsay, credited by many students with averting bloodshed during the protest.

They apparently were hoping that the university also would yield to another major demand, amnesty for the demonstrators.

President Grayson Kirk announced Thursday that no amnesty would be granted. He said such a concession would "destroy the whole fabric of the university community" by making a sham of the college rules.

An hour before Truman spoke, a double file of about 20 plainclothes police, some carrying nightsticks, pushed past a dozen faculty members stationed before the library door.

One woman was pushed to the ground and stepped on and a male French instructor was clubbed on the head.

Some 48 States Will Switch Over Sunday to Daylight Saving Time

All but two of the 50 states will switch to Daylight Saving Time Sunday.

But, an Associated Press survey also shows, some minor monkey wrenches have been tossed into the clockwork in a few areas.

The Uniform Time Act, adopted by Congress in 1966, provided that—starting in 1967—all states will observe DST from 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in April until 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in October—except that any state may exempt itself by adopting a state law.

Hawaii and Arizona have exempted themselves.

Ball Named to Succeed Goldberg

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has chosen former State Department official George W. Ball, a strong advocate of a negotiated Vietnam war settlement, to succeed Arthur Goldberg as ambassador to the United Nations.

The sudden, surprise choice of Ball, 58, to succeed the retiring Goldberg was viewed in the capital as fresh evidence that Johnson had decided to make a determined effort during his last nine months in office to negotiate an end to the Vietnam war.

Ball has made his criticisms of U.S. policy known particularly since resigning as undersecretary of state in October 1966. Thus his willingness to return to government surprised Washington circles as much as did Johnson's decision to ask him.

Reached Thursday evening by telephone in Montreal, Canada, where he is attending a conference of an independent group concerned with Atlantic community problems, Ball said:

"The President has removed himself from the political arena so he can make decisions which would be much more difficult if he were a political candidate.

"Therefore the period that remains could be a very fruitful period."

FBI Playing Down the Descriptions

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI officials are quietly trying to play down contradictory descriptions of the appearance and habits of James Earl Ray, alias Eric Starvo Galt, the elusive escaped convict charged with the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The discrepancies have fueled speculation that perhaps Ray and Galt actually are two persons, or that two or more persons used the name Galt.

No official statement has been issued to rebut this theory. But as the massive search for King's killer entered its fourth week, FBI sources who had refused to discuss any aspect of the investigation insisted, though not for attribution, that Ray and Galt are the same person.

Senators Vow Not to Bow to Demands of Negro March Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Senate Democratic leaders have vowed because federal troops and police were ordered not to shoot arsonists and looters during the racial violence in Washington earlier this month.

Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, the majority whip and No. 2 man in the Democratic leadership, also vowed in a Senate speech Thursday to call for the censure or expulsion of any senator who advocates "bending the knee" to demands from leaders of the Poor People's Campaign.

Dr. Ralph Abernathy, successor to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, plans to bring thousands of poor people to Washington next month with the aim of pressuring Congress to enact welfare legislation through non-violent demonstrations.

"When that bunch of marchers comes here, they can just burn the whole place down and we can just move the capital to some place where they enforce the law," Long said.

Sen. Robert F. Byrd, D-W. Va., third-ranking Senate Democrat, accused Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark of pussyfooting with rioters—a reference to Clark's view that shoot-to-kill orders are not the way to handle slum violence.

President Johnson has expressed a similar view, saying: "We can rebuild property. We can replace the loss of money. But a life taken can never be restored."

"I'm tired of this pussyfooting by the attorney general of the United States or by anyone else,

U.S. Reserves of Gold at Lowest Level After Recent Buying Frenzy

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government shelled out about $2.2 billion of the nation's gold to foreign buyers during the gold crisis which reached its frenzied peak about one month ago.

This was the accounting the Treasury Department revealed late Thursday of U.S. gold losses which dropped the nation's entire supply to its lowest level in 32 years by the end of March—$10.703 billion.

There were indications of a further minor loss this month in sales to foreign governments but exact figures won't be available for another month.

No formal announcement was made by the department, which merely included the figures among the scores of tables it publishes monthly in the "Treasury Bulletin."

The over-all gold loss reached a monthly record during March at $1.197 billion, the bulk of it to cover wild buying on the London Gold Market before the flow of government gold to speculators was halted in mid-March.

Devaluation of the British pound on Nov. 18 triggered the rush to buy gold and eventually led to a breakup of the London gold pool—the group of seven nations which provided enough gold from their reserves to meet the demand for the metal on the London market.

The purpose was to hold the price at $35 an ounce.

Here's how the Treasury broke down the U.S. gold drain: —A total net loss of $2.262 billion for December through March. This included all gold lost since devaluation as part of the gold pool.

Domestic sales of just over $63 million during the same period including about $14.1 million in March, the last month for sales to private American industrial users.

This left net sales to foreign buyers at roughly $2.2 billion.

An agreement among the gold pool partners last month fixed a two-price system—one of $35 an ounce among governments and a higher price set by supply and demand on the free market.

Mightiest Bomb Is Exploded

By MIKE DOAN
Associated Press Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — An experimental hydrogen bomb, most powerful tested in the United States, exploded under a desert mesa today and sent earth-like shock waves rolling for hundreds of miles.

There were no reports of damage or vented radiation from the underground blast, despite more than a week of protests from scientists and others that the shot was potentially dangerous.

The effects of the detonation of the device 3,800 feet deep at the Nevada Test Site, 100 miles northwest of here, appeared to be just about what the Atomic Energy Commission anticipated—a rolling ground motion felt as far as 250 miles away, with no harm expected.

The shot, delayed an hour until 7 a.m. due to fears that if there were radiation leaks wind might carry contaminants off the test site, was felt lightly if at all in major cities of the west.

In Los Angeles, 300 miles away, some persons trying to detect it didn't... but others said they felt it, lightly.

To an AEC observer in a bunker 13 miles from the blast point the shock was "a pretty good roll."

In Las Vegas tall buildings swayed, as in an earthquake. Chandeliers in a hotel swung. Motion was clocked for 90 seconds. Police reported a storm of calls inquiring how serious the shock was. "We also," an officer said, "got calls after the blast asking when it was going to happen."

Seismologists reckoned the shock had a magnitude of 6.5 on the Richter earthquake scale, which rates those at 7 or more as major. A 6.5 shock is strong enough to cause damage if it occurs close to populated areas.

Living Cost Takes a Big Jump

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs rose four-tenths of one percent in March, the biggest jump in eight months, the government said today.

Some 43 million American workers thus suffered a loss of purchasing power despite record high wages.

Prices the past six months have been rising at an annual rate of four per cent, the highest in 17 years, said Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

But he said he doubted there will be any government move toward price controls.

Bombers Strike Close to Saigon

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers, flying some of the war's closest raids to Saigon, hit enemy targets within 26 miles of the capital today to break up Viet Cong forces believed massing for their second major offensive of 1968.

The raids came after South Vietnamese police ordered all boats and vehicles entering Saigon be searched for arms and explosives. The police had earlier thwarted a Viet Cong attempt to smuggle guns into the capital on a river junk.

Tons of explosives fell from the giant bombers on three sorties over enemy bunkers, weapons positions and troop concentrations, six to eight miles west-southwest of Ben Cat, headquarters of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division.

Raid in February had hit targets 10 miles north of Saigon.

As fear of another attack on the capital mounted, American infantrymen combing the provinces around Saigon fought a series of small battles Thursday. Meanwhile, U.S. B52 bombers pounded North Vietnamese positions in the A Shau Valley, in the northern part of the country, again and again.

There were new reports from South Vietnam's national police that the Viet Cong were bringing arms into the capital to prepare for another "terrorist" campaign against the city similar to the Tet offensive.

Police said they found 10 Soviet AK47 automatic rifles aboard a junk at Saigon's riverfront dock. They did not say if any arrests were made.

Premier Nguyen Van Loc suggested Thursday that the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese might be planning another attack on Saigon to improve their military position before peace negotiations. South Vietnamese army units in the provinces around Saigon have been on 100 per cent alert all week in anticipation of a new enemy attack.

In the continuing small-scale fighting around the capital, 10 U.S. soldiers were killed and 82 wounded in actions 12 to 38 miles from Saigon.

Only 26 enemy were reported dead in the battles, and 18 of them were killed by U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers that attacked a bunker complex 25 miles northwest of the capital.

The jets were called in to help units of the 25th Infantry Division. The infantry reported the air attacks destroyed 99 enemy bunkers and damaged another 25.

While the South Vietnamese were fearful of a new attack on Saigon, U.S. intelligence officers exhibited greatest concern about the North Vietnamese concentrations in the A Shau Valley, which they said threatened the Hue area. These sources said the enemy has 15 to 20 battalions in the area and could commit them to an all-out attack on Hue "in a matter of hours."

The B52s hit weapons positions and storage areas in the valley three times Thursday night and with three more raids this morning.
